LARRY LANDIS

PROGRESSIONS OUR EVOLVING INNER SELF

From the moment that we take our first breath we have joined in a dance with the great celestial clock that is our solar system. Just as we can see the hands move on a clock, we can see (either with our eyes or a telescope) the planets transiting around us. But what about the gears inside that we can't see, the movement behind the movement. That is what progressions are all about.

Join us this afternoon as Larry Landis explains and differentiates the three most common types of progressions used in astrology today; the secondary, tertiary and minor progressions.

Larry Landis has been studying astrology since the early 1990's, when he happened upon Linda Goodman's "Love Signs". After years of self-study, he began his formal study under Tom Lescher (Kaypacha) and then completed Level Two of Steven Forrest's Astrological Apprenticeship Program. Larry is an active member and treasurer of NCGR-Sacramento Area.
