DONNA STELLHORN CHINESE ASTROLOGY PREDICTIONS AND FINDING THE HIDDEN MONEY IN OUR CHART FOR 2020

On January 25, 2020, we enter a new lunar year. It will be the Year of the Metal Rat. Metal Rat years are fast-paced and focused on finding success. In this workshop, we'll discover what the Metal Rat energy means for you. We'll look at predictions for each sign of the Chinese zodiac. And you'll be given a unique Feng Shui remedy for each sign to bring in prosperity energy. Then we'll uncover the Five Element System and how it can help you harmonize with people and environments. The space you're in, its décor and the objects in it affect your mood, energy and decision making. Behavioral psychologists call this priming but the Chinese call it Feng Shui. Feng Shui has its roots in the Five Element system and Astrology. This is a unique system, different than our Western four-element system because the elements interact with each other in several cycles including a creative cycle and a destructive cycle. By balancing the elements you can create more harmony, peace and attract more opportunities.

As Metal Rat years are often focused on finances we'll take a look at how you attract money through your natal chart using Western Astrology techniques.

- How does money flow into your life?
- How can you get money to accumulate?
- How can you uncork blocks to improve money flow?

At the end of this section, you'll have actionable steps for releasing blocks and accumulating money.
